

VENTILATION CURTAINS

Wilson Agriculture have teamed up with Sun-North ventilation systems. Sun-North have a leading reputation world-wide and offer a wealth of experience to provide for your ventilation requirements.

All livestock and poultry buildings require continuous ventilation 365 days of the year to maintain a healthy and productive environment. Air quality and temperature have a profound effect on the growth and health of the livestock and therefore on the profitability of the producer.

Natural ventilation has been around since housing for livestock began. During the past decades the trend has been to ventilate confined livestock with fans, however with the advent of pollution control and high energy costs, natural ventilation has been redesigned and refined to offer a more viable and reliable source of ventilation for all livestock.

OPTIONS:

1. Manual operation,
2. Automatic temperature controlled
3. Fully automatic with temperature, rain and wind sensors.

Contact Wilson Agriculture for advice and a quote on our range of curtain options

www.wilsonagri.co.uk

cowcomfort@wilsonagri.co.uk

+44 (0) 2870 868430

Further pictures of UK installations:

Installation above a feed barrier on a unit in Cornwall.

This is a manual roll up curtain.

Below: Improved ventilation along the side of a cubicle building.

